ADVISEMENT INFORMATION FOR TRANSFER MAJORS

DRAMA/THEATRE ARTS (CSUF, CSULB, SDSU, UCI)

The Drama/Theatre Arts career field is comprised of those professions involved in performance, direction, technical direction, and scene design. Performance opportunities include positions on stage and in television and movies. Community theatres, recreational theatre, educational theatre, and children's theatre are also place of employment. Although theatre careers are found throughout the country, the largest concentration of performing arts is in the metropolitan areas.

Listed below are Saddleback College (SC) courses that have been articulated with selected example universities, and represents lower-division preparation for the major. In addition, students are advised to complete General Education requirements prior to transfer.

Articulation agreements can change without notice at any point during your time at Saddleback College. Please refer to the college catalogs and websites of the transfer schools you are considering, as well as the state-wide articulation database for CSU and UC campuses, www.assist.org, for the most current information. Students are urged to contact a Saddleback College counselor to review this information on a regular basis.
