

You are cordially invited to join

Child Development
SADDLEBACK COLLEGE

Strategies for Interpreting Best Practices: A Professional Development Series

This series is designed to give those in the role of mentoring and supervising adult learners such as practicum students, lab students, parent volunteers, and assistant teachers, tools and strategies for modeling and articulating research based and proven best practices for use in the early learning setting..

Series Dates:

Saturday, October 4th 2008:

Cultivating Teachers: A tool box of strategies for mentoring and coaching adult learners in the early childhood classroom

Saturday, November 1st 2008:

Greenhouse for Learning Pt. 1: Finding the right climate for growing readers and writers

Saturday, December 6th 2008:

Greenhouse for Learning Pt. 2: A garden box of ideas for "mathematizing" your environment

Series will be held in the newly renovated child development curriculum lab classroom BGS 135

Continental Breakfast 8:30 am
Workshop 9:00am to 12:30pm

To register contact June Millovich at jmillovich@saddleback.edu
Or
949-582-4576

$10.00 Fee Includes:

Continental Breakfast and Snacks

Parking Permit

Take Home Materials

Professional Development Certificate

Upcoming Spring Topics:

Environments: Calm Classrooms in a Crazy World

Visual Documentation: Making learning visible for children, parents and ourselves

Let's Eat: Maximizing nutrition on a shoestring budget

An Arty Party: Expanding your art options

Help! Is it me or the child?: The dynamics of guidance in Early childhood classrooms

