

South Orange County Community College District District-Wide Integrated Budget Planning Resource Guide

This District-wide Integrated Budget Planning Resource Guide provides helpful information regarding planning and budget processes at South Orange County Community College District. It is a user-friendly, accessible resource guide provides links to documents that explain how the District Resource Allocation processes work, guides all faculty, staff, and interested parties through the processes and demonstrates how the district-wide planning processes are linked to budget allocations. We hope that this resource guide helps to provide a better understanding of how SOCCCD connects planning to resource allocations as well what committees' responsibilities are in these areas.
