

Translate the following phrase into a mathematical expression using x as the variable.
Simplify the expression by combining like terms.

Twice the sum of five and a number, subtracted from three times the number.

$$2(\quad + \quad)$$

Translate the following phrase into a mathematical expression using x as the variable.
Simplify the expression by combining like terms.

The difference of a number and 3 added to three times the number.

$$+ (-)$$