Notes: Generally, wants to continue to use the Perkins Core Indicator report for tracking historical placements in this division. The Dean and department chair had questions regarding the methodology of the Perkins report.

Early Childhood Teacher: The Dean and department chair established the ISS by taking an average of the last three years of job placement rates. They felt that this ISS would be achievable. The department chair expressed that many of their students do not complete this certificate to be placed into a job because they are already employed in the field and complete the certificate or degree as a way to advance in their jobs. Other students transfer to 4 year universities so do not immediately enter the job market. Also, the job placement rate via Perkins does not capture independent employees.
