17. Division Reports (if time allows)

Karla Westphal wanted faculty to be aware that AB 1705 is going after prerequisites for STEM major. Faculty teaching STEM classes have two years to justify the prerequisites, but the guidelines are uncertain and unclear. If not stopped, this new policy is likely to be ineffective and harmful to students.

1. Anticipated first term of offering: ☒ Fall ☐ Spring Year 2024

2. Catalog Description:
Examines the role of sport in historical and modern societies. This course investigates the social, political, and economic influences of sport as well as the impact of various gender, ethnic, and cultural groups. While this course places an emphasis on the effects in US society, students will explore how sport influences and shapes attitudes among various societies worldwide.

5. Justification of recommendation for new course: How was the need for this course identified? How will this course meet student needs in ways that currently approved courses (including those from other departments) do not?

With the near-future removal of area E (most of which our KNES courses fulfilled), our division has been researching additional opportunities to provide transferable courses that will fulfill GE requirements for students. In doing so, we found sport & society as a great option. While other departments may already explore the social and behavioral sciences, Sport specifically, has had a great influence on society historically, and continues to play a major role on the influence of modern societies at various levels (local, state, national, and globally). Our course will provide students the opportunity to explore social and behavioral sciences through sport.

With the near-future removal of area E (most of which our KNES courses fulfilled), our division has been researching additional opportunities to provide transferable courses that will fulfill GE requirements for students. In doing so, we found sport & film as an option. Sport has been, and continues to be, something that crosses ethnics, social-economic, and gender boundaries and there are various sports-related films that have been produced to help us see the impact of sports, and the influences on our daily lives, from a historical and cultural perspective. This is something our division would like the opportunity to share this with the student body. Students will be able to examine such concepts through the portrayal of sport in film. In addition, a sport and film class provides students the opportunity to explore the arts through an alternate avenue while giving our division a chance for regrowth and having a greater impact on students again.

1. Anticipated first term of offering: ☒ Fall ☐ Spring Year 2024

2. Catalog Description:

Designed for students looking to start or improve their training for triathlons. This course will provide triathlon-based fitness programming for swimming, biking, running, and strength training. Focus is on short to middle distance triathlons and students will work closely with the instructor to individualize their programming dependent on fitness levels and goals. The course is open to all fitness levels, although basic freestyle swimming ability is highly recommended. Race nutrition will also be covered in this course.

3. Is this course being aligned to a C-ID descriptor? ☐ Yes ☒ No ☐ N/A

Reason for cross-listing: Click here to enter text.

5. Justification of recommendation for new course: How was the need for this course identified? How will this course meet student needs in ways that currently approved courses (including those from other departments) do not?

Triathlons are a very popular form of training & sport and we believe this course will capture students and community members looking to start or advance in their training. These triathlon courses will offer individualized programs dependent on fitness levels and goals. Coaching and programming for triathletes is extremely expensive and this course will offer an affordable option. Being in southern CA, we are one of the most popular areas for triathletes to train. Our weather offers training year around, our area is ranked as one of the most scenic areas to race according to active.com and triathlete magazine, and just south of us in San Diego is the birthplace of triathlon and it offers many races throughout the year. These geographic advantages provide us with the potential to bring in many individuals of interest.

Triathlon continues to grow in popularity. Even after the Covid hiatus, triathlon continued to flourish by offering online racing giving the athletes the weekend to complete a race and post results, something that is easily replicated for students.

5. Justification of recommendation for new course: How was the need for this course identified? How will this course meet student needs in ways that currently approved courses (including those from other departments) do not?

Communication studies is growing as a discipline in general and as a department at Saddleback College. However, we have reached equilibrium with the current section of courses. By adding a new course - one that has been demonstrated to be successful and popular with students - it will help increase recruitment into the discipline, recruitment on our speech and debate team, and enrollment while providing an important class for our existing comm majors.

1. Anticipated first term of offering: ☒ Fall ☐ Spring Year 2024

2. Catalog Description:

This course is designed to promote critical thinking and writing about diverse social, historical, and cultural contexts through inquiry into literature. It offers instruction in analytical, critical, and argumentative writing, critical thinking, research strategies, information literacy, and proper documentation through the study of literary works from major genres, while developing students' close reading skills and promoting an appreciation of the aesthetic qualities of literature. As a part of this inquiry, students will also engage with distinctively literary ways of exploring human experience, learning to articulate their own views in a meaningful conversation between themselves and contemporary issues.

5. Justification of recommendation for new course: How was the need for this course identified? How will this course meet student needs in ways that currently approved courses (including those from other departments) do not?

Our proposal for English 602 is based on the approved C-ID course descriptor for ENGL 110, Argumentative Writing and Critical Thinking Through Literature, a unique course relative to other options currently offered by our department. Within this 3-unit course, students will receive a rich and diverse exposure to literature and theoretical approaches, while still experiencing the rigor and focus on further developing their compositional skills. This includes an emphasis on critical and rhetorical analysis, argumentation, and the role of research in developing an argumentative essay. This class serves as an alternate composition course to ENG 1B that combines the critical and rhetorical approaches of 1B to the literary focus of ENG 25 via original compositions totaling a minimum of 6000 words.

Since it will be part of our English degree, ENG 602 provides the department an opportunity to present students with additional pathways to complete the major and their general education requirements, as it allows students to fulfill the degree and transfer requirements currently offered by English 1B and English 25. Because of this, we expect the class to attract a more diverse group of students, which may increase interest in our degree programs and/or literature courses.

If yes, see the Articulation Officer for assistance with C-ID descriptors.
- Will course be cross-listed? ☐ Yes ☒ No
If yes, which department is responsible for scheduling, updating, and assessing the course?

Reason for cross-listing: Click here to enter text.

5. Justification of recommendation for new course: How was the need for this course identified? How will this course meet student needs in ways that currently approved courses (including those from other departments) do not?

California Assembly Bill 1705 will require mathematics departments to re-evaluate their placement practices, particularly for students who are required to take calculus for their major. The math department needs a low-unit support option to help under-prepared students succeed in first-semester calculus. A similar model of support has been implemented successfully via Math 224S, 208S, and 210S at Saddleback; we now need this type of co-requisite support for Math 3A to address student needs, statewide best-practices, and potential legislative requirements.

	a. Program Name: Music Production b. Program Type: (use drop down menu or write in) A.A or A.S. Degree c. Program TOP code: 1005.00 CIP: 10.0203 d. Contact information for Program Initiator: Ariel Alexander AAlexander@Saddleback.edu 812-219-6465 e. Proposed Pathway for new program: Art, Design, and Entertainment f. Summary description of the new program: The Music Production AA prepares students to use industry-recognized software and hardware to create, edit, record and perform music. The degree expands on the Music Production Entrepreneurship Certificate of Achievement, and will equip students to enter the following occupations: music producer, professional musician, recording engineer, film composer, video game composer, electronic musician, music supervisor, music library owner or digital media composer/producer. The field of Music Production is inherently competitive, and completion of the program does not guarantee employment. Success in the occupations listed above is based on a number of factors including musical, technical and entrepreneurial ability.
2	g. Brief Description of how the idea for the new program came about:. Saddleback's Music Production program has been growing tremendously in the last few years. The number of Music Production OSA and certificate completions grew from 9 in 2019 to 95 in 2021. Our current AA degree does not meet the needs of those production students who want to earn an AA or AS in addition to their certificates.

New Program Initiation Form (not needed for ADTs)

1	Idea for program. ADTs do NOT need to complete this process.
2	Faculty Initiator completes Part 2 of this New Program Initiation Form in preparation for Step 3.
	a. Program Name: Adult Education ESL Digital Literacy
	b. Program Type: (use drop down menu or write in) NonCredit Cert of Competency
	c. Program TOP code:	4930.87	CIP: 32.0108
	d. Contact information for Program Initiator: Annie Gilbert agilbert@saddleback.edu 949-371-7181
	e. Proposed Pathway for new program: f. Summary description of the new program: A brief description of the purpose of the new program and the population of students for which it is being developed, and if CTE, the jobs for which students would be prepared. This should look like a catalog description. This program is designed for English learners to gain the related language skills and terminology needed to perform digital tasks in personal, work, and educational settings. The program introduces vocabulary relating to basic computer hardware (such as monitor and keyboard), mouse skills, basic level keyboarding, etc. Students will learn to perform language tasks in Microsoft Office, email applications, websites, and apps on mobile devices while adhering to Internet safety rules. No prior computer experience is required.
	g. Brief Description of how the idea for the new program came about: If proposal is for an OSA, include a statement why Saddleback would support an OSA in contrast to offering a certificate program. This course is to help our AESL students who need language and digital skills to get accurate health information, communicate and collaborate using the Internet for schoolwork, communicate with their children's schools, apply for jobs, fill out online forms, etc. This will complement the other basic computer and core courses as it will have an emphasis on linguistic elements relating to digital literacy. h. Please list all courses to be included in the program and total units: If courses are new or need to be revised, please mark as such.
