We love summertime! Saddleback Community Education always looks forward to welcoming a whole new student demographic to the Saddleback College campus. We love introducing kids and teens to the college experience – and hope they are eagerly anticipating their return – even as they continue to enjoy their elementary and high school years.

We love to see kids’ enthusiasm as they hop from one learning experience to another, from classroom to pool to sports fields. We love watching them take on the roles of college students – a couple days in and you would think they own the Saddleback Campus!

College For Kids (CFK) offerings nurture academic learning with classes like STEM, reading, writing, and foreign languages. In addition, Saddleback College partners with CUSD to present its “Summer Experience” program at local elementary and middle schools. This year we have worked in partnership with Capistrano Unified School District (CUSD) educators to align our math and writing classes with the district’s core curriculum – look for “The EDGE.” In addition, kids from 5 to 17 years of age can explore acting, art, and dance. We even have a class for future chefs! Our swim programs appeal to a range of ages and abilities, with additional splash appeal for young people interested in becoming lifeguards, or trying out for their school’s water polo and diving teams. Our tennis and running offerings get kids out in the fresh air.

Saddleback Community Education classes appeal to lifelong learners from preschool to more than 100 years old. Our enrichment programs for adults include investing and retirement planning sessions, computer technologies and skill-building opportunities, entrepreneurial explorations, exciting travel excursions, and a variety of arts, dance, and music classes.

Welcome back to Saddleback Community Education!
Welcome back – to lifelong learning.

Interactive Writing Workshop  Ages 8–11

In this fun, interactive writing workshop, students will uncover the key to writing a great story! Through the use of theatre games, students will learn how to tap into their imaginations in a whole new way, and zap their ideas onto the page. They will discover the secret to creating memorable characters and learn how to bring passion to their writing. Students also will learn how to use descriptive words, similes, and active verbs, as well as discover the importance of incorporating sensory details in their writing. Techniques learned in this workshop will help children in all areas of creative writing. They will illustrate their stories, and at the end of the workshop, take home a journal with all of their work.

English Composition For Teens  Ages 12–17

Does your child write badly or does he/she show promise, but lacks the polish of professional writing? Whichever the case, this class will serve your child well. It will make bad writers good and good writers very good. The instruction uses a very successful new theory that converts the pictures we think with into verbal expression. Students love the program because while it is like a strategy game, they soon begin to see significant improvement in their writing. This class offers the best of all worlds: it is easy to understand, and it is effective. There is homework with this class.

About the CUSD Summer Experience

In partnership with Capistrano Unified School District (CUSD), Saddleback Community Education offers the 2018 Summer Experience for children, designed to give children (ages 5-14) summer enrichment classes at CUSD school sites. The program offers nine weeks of classes in science, sports, academic enrichment, and more. Visit our website for help in planning your child’s schedule: www.saddleback.edu/ce

How It Works

1. There are nine one-week Monday through Thursday sessions.
2. Most classes meet for three hours (check our website or catalog for class dates and times).
3. Classes are taught by CUSD teachers and professional experts.
4. Children create their own schedules from a wide range of offerings. All classes are priced separately.
5. Register for CUSD Summer Experience classes online (www.saddleback.edu/ce) or in person at the Community Education Office on the Saddleback College campus (Lot 1).
6. Material fees are due and payable to the instructor on the first day of class.
7. Please refer to the Cancellation Policy on page 52. Note that withdrawals/credits are not granted if you withdraw your child less than three full business days before the class starts.
8. Fees will be charged for lost or misplaced class materials. Also, non-refundable material fees may apply. See class descriptions for details.
9. Be sure to pick up your child(ren) promptly after his/her last class.
10. While on CUSD school sites, your child is expected to abide by the rules of conduct for all CUSD students. They also must follow the instructions given them by a staff member or teacher. No running, no disruptive behavior in or out of class, and no eating in classrooms are allowed. Failure to follow this code of conduct may result in dismissal — with no refund — from the program.

To support comprehension skills, students will learn to use a variety of technology tools, including Google Classroom, to assist in and present their learning. The following standards will be the focus of instruction: citing textual evidence that most strongly supports analysis and inferences drawn from the text; summarizing the text objectively by determining a theme or central idea; and describing how incidents propel the action forward. Students will also compare and contrast the reading of a text by listening to or viewing an audio or video of the text.

This workshop goes beyond mere “ear training” – you’ll obtain information found nowhere else, and you’ll be picking out tunes by ear – with both hands – from the very first day. Open to musicians (not just piano players) who have a basic understanding of chord theory. Beginners should take “Instant Piano For Hopelessly Busy People” as a prerequisite for this class.
