Please do not unsubscribe if you are a current student or faculty member in the Honors Program, and please read this every week. It is our official notice to you of things you may need to know in order to be successful.

This Week marks the anniversaries of

- Bilbo Baggins’s return to Bag End (June 22, 1342 in the Shire Reckoning),
- the start of the Great Upheaval that separated Evangeline and Gabriel Lajeunesse (June 23, 1713),
- Lord Voldemort’s rebirth (June 24, 1995),
- the first Ride of the Valkyries (June 25, 1870), and
- the last time Elvis left the building (June 26, 1977).

We wish you a memorable week on your own account, too.

SADDLEBACK 101 FOR FRESHMEN:
Lecture #6: Who's Your Prof?

You have a resource here to find that out: the "Saddleback College Catalog." All full-time faculty and the institutions they attended are listed in the Catalog.

The same information isn't available for "associate" (part-time) faculty, but if you do have professors who are associate faculty, you can always ask!

Also, most faculty have taught at other places besides Saddleback College, and you can often get information about those places too by talking to your professors.

How do you talk to a professor? Shortest Answer: Politely (see last week's lecture.) Longer Answer: Check back next Monday next week's lecture.

Remember all previous Freshman 101 lectures, as well as all previous newsletters, are available via the Newsletter Archive on the Honors Program webpages.

Honors Program Workshops

For New and Prospective Honors Program Students Especially

Five Honors Program Workshops will be held in the Transfer Center. Topics covered will include completion requirements, transfer opportunities, IGETC completion and vs. major prep, and answers to whatever questions you bring. Register here for this week's workshop, which will be 1pm - 2pm in SSC 225B.

Also, keep some time open the week before school starts for WOW: The Week of Workshops. Of course there will be special sessions for Honors students, but many other excellent events are being planned. We'll get you the schedule as soon as we have it.

Until then, to get an idea of the kind of offerings available, see what was offered last Spring.
