Dear UCLA:

STOP CHANGING ALL THE THINGS

Dear Communication Studies hopefuls:

If you are relying on Advanced Placement credit, please check with an Honors Counselor ASAP. One of the changes UCLA announced in the October meeting has to do with this topic, and we just learned this information is NOT on assist.org.

New Transfer Center Appointment Rules

Start Tomorrow Morning at 8:30

Read last week's newsletter if you missed it. We've changed the process for making Honors Counselor appointments. We do hope it helps, and we do promise to keep an eye on ways to keep helping.
This conference brings together over 300 of the best community college honors students in California. You should be there.

For more information on conferences and student research, see our Research and Conferences pages. You'll find links to specific information about the HTCC conference there as well.

_Scholarships are given and research awards are presented at this conference. We'll have more information about these in the coming weeks._
