Once You're Back on Campus. . . .

We brought in new supplies of Chai Latte, Hot Cocoa, and Hot Cider for our non-coffee drinkers. Yes, of course we have Pumpkin Spice.

COFFEE & TEA

Proceeds benefit students participating in research conferences to help pay some of their costs that the College and ASG can’t cover.

Honors Transfer Partnership with Colorado State University-Global:

Check out the details of our only ONLINE partner, CSU-Global has baccalaureate programs in various business fields, information technology (including cyber-security), criminal justice, communication, and human services, among others.

Details are on the HTCC landing page here, where you can find out more about CSU-Global and its special financial aid for Honors students.

http://htcca.org/colorado-state-university-global-campus/

Every HTCC landing page links to the text of the relevant honors partnership agreement.

If you're interested in any of these partnerships or have questions about them, let your Transfer Center Honors Counselor and the Honors Program Chair know ASAP.

You're finishing those HTCC Building Bridges Conference research abstracts and those applications for the Jack Kent Cooke Transfer Scholarship we told you about, right?

HTCC awards numerous scholarships for students who submit outstanding abstracts to the conference. Submission deadline is Dec. 9th. Don't miss out!

Help with abstracts is available in the Honors Program Office (and from your mentor professor, of course).
