Saddleback College Students to Host Fashion A"wear"ness Day
“Making Yesterday Today” Theme will Showcase Modern Styles with a Vintage Twist

Mission Viejo, CA – Saddleback College Fashion Department students will host Fashion A”wear”ness Day on Thursday, November 20th from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. in the campus quad. The event’s theme is “making yesterday today” and will feature modern fashions combined with vintage finds.

Students in the Saddleback College Fashion Department’s special events coordination and promotion class have been responsible for all of the planning and production of the event, which will feature designs for sale by students and local vendors, music, free food, and a fashion show featuring styles from the 1920’s to today.

Fashion A’wear’ness Day is a true student-run event, with Saddleback College culinary arts students supplying the food, and cosmetology students styling the hair and make up of the models in the fashion show.
